Learning Moves

Learning is changing. Learning is also changing us. The world seems ever more complex, presenting education with new challenges. New technology can seem complicated too but it offers unparalleled opportunities, changing learning and enabling us to inspire others to learn. How is the world of learning changing? How does technology help us to change the world?

With a particular emphasis on how Learning Moves, ONLINE EDUCA BERLIN 2013 will focus on change and the role of technology in promoting creativity and innovation.

We wish to inspire you with the conference themes below and motivate you to submit a proposal to become a speaker at the conference:

- |   |                                      |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| Creativity and Engagement        | Work and 'Life-Wide' Learning |
| Global Learning                  | Redefining Formal Learning    |
| Modern Problems: Smart Solutions | Learning Analytics            |

Detailed descriptions of these themes, as well as more information on how to submit, can be found at: www.online-educa.com/general-themes.

During Business EDUCA, dedicated sessions with the shared objective to network, improve and explore organisational learning will take place. We look forward to proposals from CLOs, HR professionals and learning and talent development leaders on practical strategies and solutions related to the themes of OEB 2013.

Learning professionals engaged with the use of video in learning are encouraged to submit their proposals related to the themes of OEB 2013 for Video EDUCA.

Submissions should exemplify the uses of one of the most powerful communication mediums available to educators.
